Prof. Crowell to Speak at Randleman. Personal Items.
TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 10.
Frank Brown left last night for the south.
Uncle Bob Gurley is quite feeble at his home.
Captain Dick is to be presented in Concord soon.
J. L. Smothers, of Asheville, was here yesterday.
S. Bryant came up from Randleman Tuesday morning.
Capt. J. Parkins was a guest of this city last evening.
N. C. Booker, of Lynchburg, spent last night in this city.
Lawyer Wescott Robertson is in the north, on business.
J. D. Hayes represented the state of Virginia here yesterday.
Mrs. M. A. Tate's mother, of Charlotte, is here on a visit.
J. Summerfield, of South Boston, Va., was here yesterday on business.
T. J. Redding and daughter, of Caraway, were welcome visitors here yesterday.
Miss Irvine Paylor returned last night on the southbound local passenger train.
Davis & Burns is the style of a new grocery firm here. Success to you, gentlemen.
Ted Armstrong has gone to Mississippi on business for Clarence H. McKoy, of New York.
A young woman living just outside the incorporate limits, whose mind is said to be impaired, was taken to the county home yesterday.
Samuel Coffin, of this place, and Mr. Parker, of Archdale, will take charge of a furniture factory at Durham. The former will be superintendent and the latter secretary and treasurer. We bespeak for them success.
W. P. Welch, who for the past week has been confined to his room with a gripple, is reported some better today. We hope that our friend will give La Grippe a grip that will down him forever and that in a few days he will be out again.
Miss Ella Gray succeeds Darius Payne as clerk at A. J. Owen's store. "Dirivus" is contemplating accepting a position in Greensboro. He is one of the best clerks in the state and whoever secures his services can count themselves lucky.
Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of New York City, who have been spending several days at Fairview Lodge, went south last night. Mrs. Martin is a sister to W. Gould Broker, owner of Fairview Lodge. We are told that their trip down here was very pleasantly spent.
Prof. Geo. H. Crowell will deliver an address to the school at Randleman next Saturday night and on Sunday afternoon will preach to the Junior Order of this place. He goes at the invitation of the Junior Order to speak a word to those interested in education and the people of that town will not be disappointed in expecting to hear a good talk. Prof. Crowell will be followed by the Rev. J. W. W. Gould. A cordial invitation is extended the High Point council.

Three Men Killed.
Vicksburg, Miss., Jan. 9.—Oak Ridge, a little hamlet 18 miles north-east of this city, was the scene today of a desperate pistol duel in which three of the best known residents of the town were killed. The dead are: A. D. Rolland, R. S. Stephens, Dr. Otho Austin. The two latter, together with Austin's father, had been arrested on an affidavit sworn out by Rolland, charging them with the whipping of Rolland's negro tenants. The trial was set for this morning in Justice Griffin's court at Oak Ridge. The court had hardly opened when the shooting began, and who fired the first shot is not known.

Miss Piles Married.
By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Jan. 10.—Miss Cecelia Sherman Miles, daughter of General Miles, was married here today to Captain Samuel Reber, in St. John's Episcopal church.

MORE SOLDIERS NEEDED.
Urged That All Trained men be Called Out.
TO SUPPRESS ANOTHER GENERAL
English Papers Disapprove the Management of the War—The Loss Closely Approaches 8,000.
London, Jan. 10, 4:30 a. m.—The war office has neither contributed any light, on the situation in Natal since Sunday, nor allowed the dispatches of correspondents to get through. Consequently the public impatience has been vent in a discussion of the conduct of the war. The Morning Post demands that the forces be called out, and in preparation shall be increased by 65,000 men. To this end it urges that all the trained men the country possesses, militia and volunteers, shall be called out, asserting incidentally that although the attitude of other powers is correct in the diplomatic sense of the word, an invasion, if attempted, would be sudden, and that now is the time to apprehend contingencies.
The Daily Mail says it understands that the suppression of another general commanding in South Africa will be announced shortly. This may have relation to General Buller's hasty summons from Davenport. It is reported that he came by special train to London yesterday and held a long consultation with the headquarters staff. This seems to indicate that his advice, which only recently was in extreme disfavor, is now about to be utilized.
The critics range up and down the entire field of war transactions, finding fault especially with the lack of transports for the troops who are ready to depart, and with the concealment of news, averring that the censorship in South Africa embarrasses the staff, that the reports of correspondents are being mutilated and entire letters suppressed. The admiral is seeking transports and is reported to have chartered the American liner St. Paul, which was inspected previous to chartering, and three Liverpool steamers.
The government's defense as put forth by Mr. Balfour, as Manchester, has produced a disagreeable impression upon the country. The Standard, The Times and The St. James Gazette join the almost unanimous metropolitan and provincial disapproval of the government's explanations.
Great Britain's losses since the war began are fast approaching 8,000. A war office compilation of casualties, issued last evening, shows a total of 7,212 killed, 3,485 wounded and 2,511 missing. These do not include 40,000 who have succumbed to disease nor the casualties at Ladysmith last Saturday.
The Daily Mail says: "With characteristic bad manners, the Transvaal authorities have refused to allow Holles, the American representative at Pretoria, to care for British interests. This is represented in modern diplomatic history."
Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, speaking the evening in East Manchester, said: "I know of no one in Great Britain has engaged except that resulting in the independence of the American colonies which did not end triumphantly. Yes I do not know of one which has begun triumphantly. True, the war in South Africa is disappointing, but it is not a fact that Great Britain has suffered exceptional reverses or great disaster. On the other hand, the war has knit together every branch of the English-speaking race and all feel that they have a great common destiny which is their duty to accomplish. These are thoughts which ought to support us in far greater trials than this war may produce. Remember that a nation which cannot bear defeat is a nation unworthy of empire, and although defeat has not yet come in the course of the present war, yet if matters should turn out otherwise we still rely upon the courage and patriotism of our countrymen." (Cheers.)
Admiral Lord Heresford in a speech tonight, said: "While I would deplore the adoption of the description, I hope the country will insist upon overhauling and reforming the naval and military service. Our generals should be held harmless, for they have been set to do an impossibility."

WHERE IS WARREN?
London, Jan. 10.—Where are Sir Charles Warren and the fifth division of ten thousand? Is the question which is agitating London today. They have not been heard from in ten days. They joined General Buller at Frere Camp several weeks ago, and the silence concerning this force is significant. Hints are gathered here and there which are leading many people to believe that Warren is executing an important flank movement westward against the Boers and in front of Buller.
WHERE WAS THE FLAG?
London, Jan. 10.—Private letters received here from Sterkstroom say that at the battle of Stormberg, when Gatacre was defeated, the British artillery fired upon the British infantry by mistake, and that Gatacre's distress of mind was pitiful to see.
ENGLAND'S STORM.
London, Jan. 10.—The night of the British arms in South Africa is overshadowed at present by the storm which is bursting over the head of the home government. The Manchester speeches of Balfour, the government leader, have loosed such a torrent of criticism from the press and individuals of his own party that were par-lament to assemble today, it is doubtful whether the conservatives would retain the power in spite of their tremendous majority last session.

The pent up dissatisfaction at the government's lack of energy in waging the war is no longer concealed. For the moment Balfour and his cabinet ministers will not escape criticism unless a wonderful change comes over the war situation.
London, Jan. 10.—A telegram under date of the 9th, says the Boers have evacuated Magerfontein, where they defeated General Methuen on the 12th of December.

LADIES' SOCIAL SESSION.
Knights of the Mystic Chain in Norfolk Recently.
From a Norfolk paper we take the following account of an entertainment given in this city recently. The article is of interest in Greensboro just at this time, as a lodge of Knights of the Mystic Chain will be installed here tonight.
"An entertainment of great interest and much merit was 'The Ladies Social Session of the Knights of the Mystic Chain,' which was held last night at the Elks' Hall, over the Academy of Music, the audience which was very extensively composed of ladies, completely filling the large hall and showing every manifestation of pleasure at the varied programme which was provided for them by the committee of arrangements.
"A conspicuous and very delightful feature of the evening was the excellent music furnished by the Seaboard Air Line Band, whose first number was the overture, 'Semiramide,' of Rossini, and during the entertainment played these selections: 'Colored Wedding,' Laurendeau; 'American Fantasia,' 'Tone Pictures of the North and South,' Bendig; baritone solo, 'Old Rules at Home,' Stewart, and the favorite selections from 'The Telephone Girl,' Kerker, all under the efficient direction of Mr. H. Frank Maxim, bandmaster.
Mr. W. H. Venable, of Norfolk, was then presented to make the address of welcome, and did so in a cordial and eloquent style, as follows:
"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:—The refining influence of civilization has transformed the old ideas of knighthood and chivalry that existed in the time of the lion-hearted Richard of England. Men no longer meet in mortal combat on the bloody arena. But restrained by the gentle hand of refined and cultured womanhood of the nineteenth century they have learned to win the love and smiles and applause of fair maidens by more humane methods. The Knights of the Mystic Chain place as high a value upon virtue, and are as loyal to true womanhood as the knights of any age that the world has ever seen.
"This comparatively young and exceedingly prosperous organization for which I have the honor of acting as a mouthpiece this evening is founded upon a broad and liberal fraternalism and seeks to elevate the standard of our country to a higher plane.
"In addition to the insurance feature, which is the cheapest I know of, each member is entitled to free medical attention and enjoys many other privileges which I would like to dwell upon did I not know that by so doing I would be postponing your enjoyment of this excellent program.
"As I look out over this audience and recognize on the faces of the individuals here assembled those unmistakable marks of kindness, culture and refinement that characterize every assemblage where the true sons and faithful daughters of Virginia meet, I know that you will inspire each performer whose name appears upon this program by giving to them your respect, quiet and undivided attention.
"In the name of Norfolk Lodge No. 125, Knights of the Mystic Chain, I bid you all ten thousand welcomes.
"His remarks were heard with close attention and had hearty applause, after which Mrs. S. B. Patton sang 'Forgotten,' by Eugene Cowles, in delightful fashion, and then Mr. Wm. D. Crowell, a favorite here, sang two popular songs in his pleasing way, one 'Please, Mr. Conductor, Don't Put Me Off the Train,' and 'How Would You Like to be the Ice Man,' both being well received.
"A juggler, Zimmer, from Barton's Auditorium Theatre, Norfolk, came next, and his wonderful feats had great applause, after whom there were introduced Buckley and Renis, a musical team, also from the Auditorium Theatre, whose sketch was amusing and which earned hearty approbation. Mrs. Patton pleased her hearers again with the song 'Goodnight, Sweet Dreams,' and the band played national airs, followed by Miss Pauline A. Pettis, who sang 'He is a Prince,' with excellent effect, after which Miss Emily La Blane played a number for piano, which showed much talent and study, and then the band played 'Home, Sweet Home,' everybody going away delighted with the entertainment.
"Refreshments were provided in liberal quantities by the committee of arrangements, all members of which were very active in looking after the comfort of their guests, and who are to be congratulated on the successful result of their labors towards the ladies social session on last evening."

Another Big Fire.
By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
New York, Jan. 10.—Charles Starr's mammoth gymnasium and bowling alley, on West Forty-ninth street, was burned today. Forty firemen who were overcome by smoke were rescued with much difficulty. The building was six stories high built of brick and brownstone and is a total loss.

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.
The City National Bank Showed to be in Excellent Condition.
The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the City National Bank was held yesterday at the office of Adam & Douglass J. Van Linder, who was elected to preside over the meeting and Lee H. Battle acted as secretary. The president read his annual report which shows the bank to be in excellent condition.
The profits for the past year were something over $100,000, or 10 per cent on the capital stock. The president reported that the directors had deemed it wise not to pay a dividend the first year, and had, therefore, placed $100,000 of the earnings to the surplus fund. Stockholders of the Piedmont Bank, which was converted into the City National about a year ago, have received during this year a dividend of 20 per cent out of the profits of that bank.
The president's report shows that the deposits during the past year have exceeded those of any previous year by about $100,000. He also stated that during the past week the City National Bank had been appointed a government depository, and would, therefore, receive a deposit of $50,000 from the U. S. treasury.
On motion of Judge Douglas, the secretary was instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the stockholders for the re-election of the present board of directors. There being a vacancy on the board, R. W. Brooks was elected to fill same. The following constitute the directory for the ensuing year: J. M. Walker, J. S. Hunter, Dr. Dred Peacock, J. Van Linder, S. L. Trogdon, M. L. Shields, J. A. Hodgins, J. N. Wylie and R. W. Brooks.
Immediately after the adjournment of the stockholders meeting, the directors met for the election of officers. The president, J. M. Walker, and the Vice President, S. L. Trogdon, were both unanimously re-elected. R. G. Vaughn, former cashier having resigned his position, the directors elected Lee H. Battle, formerly cashier of the Atlantic National Bank of Wilmington, N. C., as cashier of the bank.

Intensifying Spreading.
By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
London, Jan. 10.—An epidemic of influenza is spreading throughout the entire country. The newspapers contain long lists of notable persons who are suffering from the disease, and the lists of the dead are abnormally large. The royal household of Osborne house, Isle of Wight, has not escaped. Many of the members of the household have been sent to the sanitarium.

CLEVELAND AND THE SOUTH.

In an editorial upon the subject which forms the heading of this article, The Nashville, Tenn., American says:

"Mr. Cleveland did all in his power to establish the ancient rights of the South and Southern men. He courageously and bravely fought the battle of the South, and the most powerful of the South, and was guided by their judgment. The Confederate veterans he placed in the highest positions of trust, in his cabinet, on the supreme bench, and as representatives to some of the most important foreign governments.

"Mr. Cleveland's mistake was in not making concessions to leaders of his party in Congress. He thought the policy they advocated was wrong, no doubt, but all legislation, Mr. Burke once said, is concession. The politicians of the South may have a grudge against Cleveland, but the people have not, and entertain for him sentiments of the warmest regard and of the greatest respect."

We quite agree with The Vicksburg, Miss., Herald, in its comments on the above, that if the people of the South are to be judged by the expressions of their most popular leaders and by the literature of the day, one will reach a conclusion different from that arrived at by the Nashville paper. In the South—for which he did most in the best of governmental favor—there is a virulence, a hearty malignity, in the denunciation of ex-President Cleveland which is not discovered in the criticism which Southern speakers and newspapers pass upon President McKinley. He has a number of friends and admirers in this section, who see in his present prosperity a vindication of the financial policy by which he lost his friends, but the time of the return of the popularity which he once enjoyed is not yet, nor will it be during his life-time. His appeal is to the next generation, or the next—not to this. Justice will be done to him, but not now. As to the mistake he made in not making concessions to the leaders of his party in Congress, he is hardly chargeable with it. He is a strenuous spirit and believes in fighting to the last ditch for what he believes, and failing if necessary. This he did, when his time came he stepped cheerfully into all the obscurity that was possible to so much unpopularity, and has never been heard to murmur or to say that republicans are ungrateful.—Charlotte Observer.

The above discussion about the biggest man in the United States, in spite of his unpopularity, is interesting reading in this print-shop. The editor of this paper wrote in 1892 that Grover Cleveland was twenty-five years ahead of his party. Later events served to more than confirm that belief, and we are still of that opinion.

Murder at Wadesboro.

Wadesboro, N. C., Jan. 9.—Major Smith, a young white man who lives at Reseland, was found dead this morning about 10 o'clock in the road leading from Wadesboro to the depot at this point. The deceased had a bullet hole through his head and there was evidence that he had been dragged from the place of murder into the woods by the road.

The deceased was about thirty-three years old and was attending court at Wadesboro, where he appeared as a defendant in two or more criminal indictments. No clue has been found.

Chollie—"What does your best girl call you?" Freddie—"Sometimes she calls me down."

The modern and most effective cure for constipation and all liver troubles—the famous Little Pills, known as De Witt's Little Early Risers. Howard Gardner.

PENITENTIARY REPORT.

Capt. Day Gives Its Operations for the Year 1899.

Capt. W. H. Day, the superintendent of the state prison, completed his annual report last night, showing the operations of the institution for the year, which will be presented to the board of directors at their annual meeting here tomorrow.

The report shows that the assets of the prison, which includes crops harvested and bills collectable, are $124,741.20. The total indebtedness of every nature January 3, 1900, amounted to $56,803. After paying the $55,000 advanced by the state treasurer for the operation of the penitentiary, and satisfying the entire indebtedness, the report shows that there will be a balance of $13,048 to the credit of the institution.

Captain Day did not think the prison would be able to make such a showing until the books had been balanced yesterday. Speaking of the figures announced above, Superintendent Day said: "The assets are not estimates, but consist of crops already harvested and bills due the prison that are as good as gold. In making these figures I have not stripped the institution but have made allowance for enough products, such as corn and peas, to run the prison until next year's crops are harvested. A reduction of from 10 to 20 per cent has been made on the inventory taken in the value of crops given here."

The report of the superintendent of the prison will say, among other things: "It is mutually gratifying to this board and the management to declare to the people of the state that this institution for the year 1899 has been self-sustaining and a business method brought to its management."

"There can be no reason why, in the future, it should be a burden to the taxpayer."

"This condition is especially gratifying when we reflect that this board and the management have been subjected many times to harsh and unjust criticism, while neither the board nor the management have ever had anything to conceal, yet our critics have never sought the truth from the only source from which it could be obtained. It will be urged by some that our favorable showing results from the legislative appropriation and the large assets coming over from the preceding management. As a matter of necessity, the last succeeding management must receive assets from its predecessor and must turn over assets to its successor. The present management is no exception in this regard."

We received from my predecessor assets that were converted into cash aggregating $40,271.80, but at the same time we received a corresponding burden in the shape of large legacies of debts and obligations, all of which we have paid and discharged. The property I found run down, almost to the verge of uselessness, the teams old and worn out, farming implements of every description and all machinery in bad condition, the buildings in utter disrepair; in many instances the weatherboards and timbers had been stripped off and used as firewood. This condition was not chargeable solely to any preceding administration, but resulted from years of decadence and of failure to renew during all that period."

In his annual report Captain Day compliments in high terms Mr. F. B. Arendell, the business manager and purchasing agent of the institution. Capt. Day says the office was created as an experiment, but the wisdom of selecting Mr. Arendell has been fully demonstrated. The superintendent says that as a result of Mr. Arendell's judgment, ability and practical business methods, he has saved the state fully $11,000 in making purchases.

To offset the $56,803.03, which is the sum total the penitentiary owed January 1, 1900, are assets which Capt. Day says are worth $124,741.20.

"These assets are saleable assets," Captain Day stated, "and can be put on the market today and bring more than the value which I give them. Only one-third of the corn crop is given among the assets, as I have set two-thirds of the crop aside to run the institution during the next year. If our assets were disposed of today the operation of the prison would not be interfered with in the least. These products have not been given in at their market values. I undervalued them purposely, so as to be absolutely safe in the figures furnished the board."

"Our assets include 2,008 bales of cotton. The cotton sold at the first of the season is not considered. These 2,000 bales are compressed and in storage at Norfolk, ready for delivery at $65,000, at the rate of 7 1/2 cents. It is inventoried at $75,000 but to be certain of my figures I have reduced it to $65,000. One-third of the corn crop, which amounts to 12,000 bushels, is worth $6,000. I have not taken into consideration 19,300 bushels set aside for consumption this year. After reserving enough peas to plant and eat we will have 2,500 bushels for sale. Four thousand bushels of rice, already stored, are easily worth $3,500. We have 24,000 bushels of peanuts, for which I have been offered considerably more than $21,000, but that is the figure I value them at in my report. We have $3,000 worth of cotton seed and 130 head of fat beef cattle on the farms that will easily bring $2,500. There are 1,500,000 of brick on the yards, worth $7,500. There are $1,250 worth of mattresses, which is their cost price. This does not include the material with which to manufacture $7,000 worth of mattresses. Our bills receivable amount to $17,000. In my report I value these bills at $17,000. I think, however, we will collect $15,000 of these. Among them is a bill of $3,000 against the government. Fifty per cent of the $12,000 bills receivable have already been collected since January 1.

"I desire to say," Captain Day stated, "that we realized from assets of the Mewborne administration, after we took hold, $4,271. This is what was realized from products we found here. We paid of Mr. Mewborne's debts $22,766.37. This left still assets to the amount of $17,500 realized from the old administration. To counteract this we have expended $22,855 for permanent improvements necessary to put the institution in working condition. This statement shows that we have expended in round figures $5,000 above and over the resources derived from the Mewborne administration. It added to our profits it shows that the present administration came out over $18,000 ahead of last year."—Morning Post.

Free of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Griscom & Fordham's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really not only throat and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75-cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

Culture is all right in a young woman, but it shouldn't completely overshadow her ability to sew on a button.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Piersen drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of a gripe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief in a very short time. The sales are growing and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Tribune. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Grand opera singers strive after high notes. A thousand dollar bill for a single performance is what they are after.

He Only Repeats What has been Around the World.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher, of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what he has said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Mistaken for McKinley.

A traveling man, who was stopping at a Broadway hotel, was accosted one evening by several young men who asked him to join them in a bottle of wine. This, at first, the gentleman refused to do, but so persistent were the young men that he finally consented. They adjourned to the cafe, where quart after quart of mums was drained. At last to understand the attention he was receiving, the guest finally asked: "To what do I owe this courtesy on your part?" There was a smile on all their faces, as one of them spoke up, saying: "Why, don't you think we know who you are, who wouldn't know the president of the United States?" After a hearty laugh, the traveling man very quietly informed them that he was W. H. Mack, an actor. They took this as a joke so sure were they in their belief that they were talking to President McKinley. A few minutes elapsed when a former member of Mr. Mack's company coming in, said: "Hello Mack, when do you open?" Mr. Mack replied: "Well, these gentlemen have been doing all the opening, they think I am McKinley." The new comer burst into a fit of laughter and said: "Why don't you invite them to the theatre?" It was no sooner said than done. The young men left the hotel still thinking they had met the president.

That evening they attended the theatre where Mack was playing in "Town Topics," and so delighted were they with the performance that they waited for him after the show. They shook him by the hand warmly and said: "Mack, you're a corker, we have been better entertained than had we met the president," to which Mack replied: "Well, boys, you say I am a corker; now I'll show you how to be an unorker. I owe you a few bottles, don't I?"

"Town Topics" Co. will appear at the academy of music Tuesday night, January 10. Prices, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00.

Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1892. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by O. E. Holton, druggist."

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

I am 49 years old and have been suffering from Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that I thought I could live. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it saved my life. I am like another person since taking it.

MRS. S. B. TOWNSEND.

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that separates her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers.

It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.

THE AMENDMENT.

How Pritchard's Resolution Will Probably be Treated.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, Monday opened the campaign for the defeat of the proposed constitutional amendment in North Carolina at Laurinburg, which will be at the heart of the state election next August, when the election on the proposed amendment will be held.

The campaign is likely to attract national attention, and will probably be one of the most memorable and most bitter in the history of the southern states. The amendments in Louisiana, South Carolina and Mississippi, were adopted without much difficulty for the reason that the practical solid white votes of those states were in favor of limiting negro suffrage. In North Carolina, however, the people are evenly balanced, politically it is claimed by the republicans that a large section of the democratic party of the amendment, but the statements of the democratic leaders in Washington do not bear this statement out.

Representatives Bellamy and Kitchin, who are probably as familiar with the democratic sentiment in North Carolina as any two men in the state, both assert that if the republicans are building their hopes of the defeat of the amendment upon alleged democratic dissension, they will be much mistaken. On the other hand many republicans and populists of North Carolina, coming to Washington assert openly that they will vote for the amendment, and that it will carry the state by forty thousand or more.

The campaign is more than likely to find an echo quite frequently in the United States senate during the present session, where the North Carolina senator, Mr. Pritchard, has a resolution pending declaring the proposed amendment in conflict with the 15th amendment of the U. S. constitution. As indicated by the speech of Senator Morgan the other day, the speeches in the senate are likely to be heard quite often and will become more impassioned probably as the campaign in the state increases in bitterness. Senator Pritchard himself will deliver a speech in the senate on his resolution January 22. It is not thought likely, and probably Senator Pritchard does not intend that a vote will be had in the senate on the amendment, as many republicans hold that it would be a rather dangerous precedent for the senate of the United States to declare proposed state legislation unconstitutional when that prerogative belongs to the U. S. supreme court. The text of the resolution, however, will afford the Republicans and Democrats, too, for that matter, in the senate, the opportunity to play at politics a little, which of late years seems to be the especial delight of the dignified U. S. senate. Even should a vote be had on the Pritchard resolution, and it should pass the United States senate, it would have no effect on the vote on the proposed amendment in North Carolina, as the democrats of the state would probably go right ahead and adopt it. It is safe to predict, too, that should the resolution pass the senate, and later the amendment in North Carolina should be adopted, the senators and representatives elected under its provisions at the next congressional election would be admitted to their seats. But, as stated, it is not likely that the majority of the senate expect the resolution of the North Carolina senator to be voted upon.

The entertainment and banquet to be given in this city Friday night in aid of the proposed amendment to the late General Robert E. Lee, by the North Carolina society, will be largely attended, and the North Carolina people of the national capital are taking much interest in the matter. The admission has been placed at the sum of one dollar. Many prominent North Carolina people will be in Washington from the state, it is said, to attend the banquet.

Mrs. Willard, the wife of Captain Joseph Willard, a member of the Virginia legislature, has been visiting North and South Carolina. She intends taking a trip to southern California, where she will remain until warm weather. She is taking the trip for the benefit of her health.

Postmasters have been appointed in North Carolina as follows: L. V. Barker, Dobson, Surry county; J. S. Lyon, Edmonds, Alleghany county; J. N. Somers, Tablerock, Burke county; and E. L. Lillard, Wolf Mountain, Jackson county.

Among North Carolina people in Washington are H. N. Moss, of Charlotte; A. J. Holloway, Goldsboro; J. H. Norman, Dobson; Mrs. Glenn, Greensboro; Cooper Carter, T. B. Heath and A. B. Andrews, Raleigh, and W. B. Steele, High Point.

"I have also recommended these medicines to my friends who suffered from female weakness."

I was troubled for three years with ulcerations and female weakness and my doctor gave me but little relief," writes Mrs. Lulu Hunter, of Boston in Louisiana, Mo. "I then gave up and took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took five bottles of it, and one bottle of Golden Medical Discovery, and my health is better now than it was for years. I have no more recommended these medicines to some of my friends who suffered from female weakness, and good results have followed."

The greatest advertisement of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription are the women who have used it and been cured by it. It is not a common "cure-all."

It is a single purpose, the cure of diseases peculiar to women, and this purpose it accomplishes thoroughly and permanently.

NOTICE!

ORDINANCE.

At a called meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Winston, held on Tuesday afternoon, December 12th, 1899, the following ordinance was adopted:

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the city of Winston, N. C., that it shall be unlawful for any person residing or working in the neighborhood of the Terra Cotta works or Pomona, or the Guilford Battle Ground, or Guilford College, in Guilford county, to come within the corporate limits of the city of Winston within thirty days from the passage of this ordinance, without having a physician's certificate of recent vaccination, or a certificate that he has not been exposed to the smallpox contagion. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined $20.

That any railroad or other public carrier, bringing into the city any person failing to have such certificate of vaccination or health, shall be fined for each offense ten dollars.

That a copy of these ordinances shall be published in some newspaper in Greensboro, in the city papers, posted at public places and a copy handed by the chief of police and to the proper officers of all railroads coming into the city.

Winston, N. C., Dec. 12, 1899.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Ingram, the grocer, has a change of ad. today.

Four hundred bushels of Irish potatoes are advertised today by Vuncannon & Co.

Carey J. Hunter, a prominent insurance man of Raleigh, was here today enroute to Cincinnati.

The signs that made Greensboro famous. Do you know what they are? Read the ad of Rees & Bond.

The directors of the Greensboro National Bank are in session at their banking offices this afternoon.

Alphonso Wise, of Blackville, S. C., is in the city visiting his aunt, Mrs. Dr. Burbank, on Greene street.

You can always find nice Chinaware, glassware, dinner sets, toilet sets, fine lamps at E. M. Caldwell & Bro.

Capt. J. R. Tally, a former C. F. & Y. V. conductor, now with the Coast Line, is spending a day or two in the city.

Capt. H. P. Alderman, one of the Southern's handsomest conductors, spent yesterday in the city and left last night for his home at Mt. Airy.

The snollygoster didn't show him self on the streets today. Must be put together with a poor quality of glue if he is not able to stand a little rain.

"There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight." The organization of Knights of the Mystic Chain will take place in the Odd Fellows hall. All are requested to be on hand at 7:30 o'clock.

A man had his hands and lips badly chapped by the cold, and was directed to Hoston's drug store, where he got a bottle of Marsh Mallow Lotion, the great antidote. See new ad today.

A new barber shop has been opened in the Southern Loan and Trust Co.'s building, first floor last room on right. White barbers are employed, and new and handsome furniture, chairs, etc., is used.

There will be a meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company next Wednesday. The directors met today but only routine work was transacted.

A valise was stolen from the depot yesterday, but Policeman Jeffreys soon ran it down, finding it aboard the train for Sanford. The thief was evidently on the lookout and saw the officer approaching, as he was not to be found.

The winter is not over. The weather has been dry and mild a good portion of the time, only a week or two of real winter so far, and there will yet be need for winter dress goods. Harry-Belk Bros. inaugurate a special sale today. See new ad.

President W. H. Baldwin, of the Long Island Railway, passed here last night in his private car, going to Atlanta. Mr. Baldwin was formerly 3rd vice president of the Southern, and is well known and very popular among railroad men in this city.

Mrs. Dr. J. P. Carter, of Richmond, lectured to the young ladies at G. F. College yesterday afternoon on physical culture. Mrs. Carter is making a specialty of all that pertains to the health of women, and is recommended to the ladies of Greensboro.

Remember the union prayermeeting tonight at Westminster Presbyterian church. Subject--Nations and Their Ruins. Tomorrow night the meeting will be at Centenary church. There is a good deal of interest manifested. The meetings are marked with the spirit of fellowship. The people seem desirous of knowing higher and better things and that a gracious revival may visit the churches.

Mrs. Fannie Cox, of Indianapolis, formerly Miss Parks, of Franklinville, who has been visiting relatives at the latter place, is here today, returning home on a sad mission, carrying with her the remains of her three-year-old child, who died yesterday. Mrs. Cox is accompanied by her sister, Miss Sallie Parks, and brother, Mr. H. T. Parks, who will accompany her to Indianapolis.

Masonic.
A regular communication of Greensboro Lodge No. 76 A. F. and A. M. will be held in Masonic Hall on Thursday night, January 11th, at 7:30 p. m. There will also be work in the second degree. Visiting brothers cordially and fraternally welcomed.
James D. Glenn, W. M.
W. T. Gayle, Secretary.

Attention, Sir Knights.
The organization of Lodge No. 136, Knights of the Mystic Chain takes place tonight at 7:30 o'clock, sharp, in Odd Fellow's hall on West Market street. Be on hand promptly, and any good member for whom you can vouch bring up to go in on charter.
M. Summerfield,
D. S. O. for Southern States.
C. F. Bozorth,
Organizer.

That delayed shipment of boys and little gent's shoes came in at last this morning. It took them a long time to get here but they opened up all right when they did come. The little gent's shoes have very low common sense heels, a decided improvement on spring heels. Sizes in these are from 8 to 13 1/2, price $1.25. The boys' shoes, sizes running from 1 to 5 1/2, are the best we have seen for the price, which is $1.50. For boys who are particularly hard on shoes we especially recommend our stout quilted bottom satin cloth shoes. These have steel slugs in the heels to prevent running over and are made to stand rough weather and rough wear.
Thacker and Brockmann.

Try Vick's Magic Corn Salve, 10c. Takes them off without soreness.

Try Vick's Laxative Quinine Tablets, 10c Box. Cures cold in one night.

WANTED--Position by young man; fair knowledge of bookkeeping; single or double entry. Address "X" care Telegram.

FREE! FREE!
Entertainment for the Little Folks.

Let them come to our parlors and hear the great Musical Wonder, which plays, sings and recites. Nothing has greater powers for amusing in an innocent way. If you don't feel like investing a few dollars so as to amuse and keep them satisfied at home, don't deprive the little hearts of this pleasure. Let them come and we will make them glad. You might come, too, and hear the greatest Wonder of the Age.
